🌟 Greatness & Significance of the Temple

The Prasanna Anjaneya statue in Hangalur, Kundapura, stands at a breathtaking 80 feet tall, making it one of the tallest statues of Lord Hanuman in the region.

Its imposing height and intricate craftsmanship symbolize the boundless strength and devotion of Lord Hanuman. (Udupi Tourism)

The temple and statue are deeply rooted in the religious traditions of India, serving as a sanctuary for those seeking blessings and spiritual guidance. Beyond its spiritual allure, the statue is a testament to the artistic heritage of the region. (Udupi Tourism)
Devotees describe it as a peaceful, spiritually uplifting temple.

The atmosphere is calm and filled with positive energy, making it a perfect place for prayer and meditation.

The idol of Lord Hanuman is beautiful and powerful, and the surroundings are clean and well maintained. (Tripadvisor)

One reviewer noted: the Hanuman statue is unique and resembles an old heritage idol, and it is less crowded compared to other temples (Tripadvisor) — making it ideal for quiet darshan.

📜 History & Inauguration

The 80-foot Prasanna Anjaneya statue was inaugurated in 2005 by Shri Veerendra Heggade, the Dharmadhikari of the renowned Dharmasthala temple. (Getty Images)

This gives the temple a prestigious founding blessing.

The statue rises amidst coconut plantations in Hangalur on the outskirts of Kundapura.

Detailed ancient legends specifically about this Kundapura temple are not widely documented in accessible records; its primary identity is as a modern devotional landmark built to honour Lord Hanuman along the Konkan coast.

🏛️ Architecture & Description of the Deity

The idol of Hanuman rises high amidst greenery and coconut plantations, offering a divine and peaceful atmosphere. (Local Guides Connect)

The 80-foot statue depicts Lord Hanuman in the Prasanna (serene, benevolent) form — standing upright, calm and graceful, as opposed to the fierce warrior form.

This form is considered especially approachable for devotees seeking blessings of protection, courage, and removal of obstacles.

In the evenings, the giant Hanuman idol glows under illumination, creating a breathtaking sight against the backdrop of coconut groves and the open sky. (Local Guides Connect)

The temple structure itself is relatively simple and traditional in character.
The temple is still somewhat underdeveloped with limited facilities, but the charm lies in its simplicity and natural surroundings, which make the experience more spiritual and refreshing. (Local Guides Connect)

🙏 Daily Rituals, Timings & Poojas

Temple Timings: Open daily 6:00 AM – 8:00 PM (all seven days).
Standard daily rituals include morning and evening poojas (Abhisheka, Archana, Mangalarati) as is customary in Hanuman temples.
The calm, uncrowded nature of the temple allows devotees to have extended and peaceful darshan.
For exact pooja timings and charges, it is best to contact the temple trust directly or inquire upon arrival, as this small temple may not have a published schedule.

🎉 Festivals

On Hanuman Jayanti and other auspicious days, devotees gather in large numbers, filling the temple grounds with devotion and energy. (Local Guides Connect)

Hanuman Jayanti is the primary and grandest festival celebrated here.
Saturdays are traditionally the most popular day for Hanuman worship, drawing larger crowds.

How to Get There

The temple is very convenient for road travelers:

By Road: Lies close to NH 66 (Mangalore–Udupi–Murudeshwar route). Buses, taxis, or private vehicles from Kundapura (autos/taxis available) or Udupi work well. It is about 100–400 meters from the main highway.
By Rail: Nearest railway station is Kundapura (on the Konkan Railway). From there, take a local auto or taxi (short ride).
By Air: Mangalore International Airport (about 89 km) or smaller options via Udupi. Road transport from the airport is straightforward along the coast.

Tip: Signboards may be limited; ask locals for “Hangalur Hanuman Temple” or the big Anjaneya statue.
No entry or parking charges mentioned in most accounts.

Greatness of This Temple

The temple is revered for its towering Prasanna Anjaneya (benevolent/favorable Hanuman) statue, symbolizing courage, devotion, and protection.

Devotees visit for spiritual solace, to overcome obstacles, and to seek blessings for strength and well-being. The site has grown into a cultural and religious landmark in coastal Karnataka (Tulu Nadu region), attracting pilgrims and passersby.

It features good lighting at night, making the statue visually impressive even after dark. Anna prasadam (free or subsidized meals) is often provided to devotees.

Legends and History

Specific ancient legends tied exclusively to this site are not extensively documented in public sources.
The idol/statue of Prasanna Anjaneya is described in some accounts as having roots potentially going back centuries (one mention suggests an 800-year-old tradition), though the prominent 80-foot statue was installed and inaugurated in 2005.

It embodies the timeless devotion to Lord Hanuman as the ideal devotee of Lord Rama. The “Prasanna” form emphasizes a gracious, blessing-giving aspect of Hanuman.

Architecture of the Temple & Deities

Feature: The standout element is the majestic 80-foot monolithic or sculpted statue of Lord Hanuman in a standing, benevolent pose (Prasanna Anjaneya). It showcases intricate craftsmanship and serves as both a devotional and artistic marvel.

Deities: Primarily dedicated to Sri Prasanna Anjaneya Swamy (Lord Hanuman). Some visitors mention associated elements like a Shani shrine/mandap in the complex.

Sub-deities: Limited details available; typical Hanuman temples may have smaller shrines for related deities (e.g., Rama, Sita, or local forms), but the focus remains on the grand Anjaneya statue.

The overall setup is relatively modern around the statue with traditional temple elements for worship.

Daily Rituals and Poojas (and Charges)

M Rituals: Standard Hanuman temple practices include morning and evening aarti, abhishekam, and parikrama (circumambulation). Four daily rituals are generally observed in similar temples.

Poojas/Charges: Entry and basic darshan are free. Special offerings (e.g., coconut, poorna phala, or specific sevas) may have nominal charges (cash/UPI accepted; examples in similar temples include ₹150 for certain offerings).

Exact current rates are best confirmed on-site as they can vary. Prasadam is distributed, and some accounts mention meals available from morning to evening.

Special Poojas, Rituals, and Charges

Common offerings include coconut breaking or special archana for wish fulfillment and obstacle removal.

Details on priced special poojas are not centrally published; visitors typically inquire at the counter. During festivals, extra sevas like yagya or detailed abhishekam are performed.

Festivals

Hanuman Jayanti (December or Chaitra month, depending on the calendar): Celebrated grandly with a 12-day festival, yagyas, abhishekas, poojas, and mass feeding of Mahaprasada. It draws thousands of pilgrims (over 35,000 reported in some years).

Sri Rama Navami: Special sevas and poojas with temple decorations.

Other occasions: Tuesdays and Saturdays see higher crowds and special observances for Hanuman. Panguni Uthiram-style or regional festivals may also occur.

Facilities for Devotees (Accommodation, etc.)

On-site: Parking, prasadam distribution, space for crowds during festivals.
The temple provides a serene ambiance for prayer and parikrama.

A goshala (cowshed) is mentioned in some related accounts for ritual milk.

Accommodation: No major on-site guest house details; devotees usually stay in nearby Kundapura town. The temple complex supports day visits comfortably.
Other: Rest areas, lighting for evening visits, and accessibility from the highway.

Donation Info and Bank Account

No specific public bank account details or online donation links were prominently listed in available sources.
Donations for sevas, maintenance, or prasadam can typically be made in cash or via UPI at the temple counter.
For large contributions or trust details, contact the temple administration directly or check with Udupi District temple authorities.

Some more details on: architecture, daily rituals and their charges, special poojas and their charges, and important festivals:

The Prasanna Anjaneya Temple in Hangalur, Kundapur, is characterized by its blend of monumental modern sculpture and traditional coastal temple architecture.

Below are the expanded details on its architecture, rituals, and celebrations:

1. Architecture and Design

- The 80-Foot Vigraha: The defining feature is the colossal 80-foot statue of Lord Hanuman, sculpted from a single block of granite (according to some local accounts) or reinforced concrete finished with meticulous detail.
    - Iconography: The deity is depicted in a standing posture, holding his signature Gada (mace) in one hand and the Sanjeevini Mountain in the other, symbolizing his role as the protector and savior.
    - Expression: True to the name "Prasanna," the face of the statue is crafted to reflect a benevolent, smiling, and peaceful expression.
- Temple Layout: * The complex is set atop a gently rising hillock, providing a panoramic view of the surrounding coconut groves and the Arabian Sea in the distance.
    - The Main Shrine: Located at the base of the giant statue, it follows the traditional Coastal Karnataka (Parashurama Srishti) architectural style, featuring a sloping roof designed to withstand heavy monsoon rains.
    - Inauguration: The modern transformation of the site was officially inaugurated in 2005 by Dr. D. Veerendra Heggade of Dharmasthala.

.2. Deities and Sub-Deities

- Primary Deity: Lord Prasanna Anjaneya (Hanuman).
- Sub-Deities: The complex houses several smaller marble shrines (Sannidhis) dedicated to:
    - Lord Ganapathy
    - Lord Rama, Sita, and Lakshmana
    - Goddess Mahalakshmi
    - Lord Subramany

3. Daily Rituals and Seva Charges

The temple maintains a structured schedule for spiritual offerings. While prices are subject to change by the trust, the following are standard offerings:

Ritual / Seva	Approximate Charge (INR)	Significance
Ashtothara Archana	₹20 – ₹50	Chanting 108 names of the Lord.
Vadamala Seva	₹250 – ₹500	Offering a garland made of Vadas; highly popula for Hanuman.
Aku Pooja	₹100 – ₹200	Offering of betel leaves.
Sindhoora Archana	₹50 – ₹100	Offering vermilion to the deity.
Panchamrutha Abhisheka	₹300 – ₹700	Ritual bathing of the smaller idol with five sacre liquids.
Annadhana Contribution	Voluntary	Many devotees donate ₹1,116 or more to sponso day's meal for pilgrims.

- Auspicious Days: Tuesdays and Saturdays see the heaviest crowds, with special evening Mangalarthi and Bhajan sessions.

4. Important Festivals

- Hanuman Jayanti (Annual Fair): This is the biggest event of the year, usually occurring in December (Margashira month). It features a Rathotsava (Chariot Festival) where the deity is taken in procession.
- Madhwanavami: Celebrated with special significance due to the region's connection to the Dvaita philosophy and the belief that Sri Madhvacharya was an avatar of Hanuman.
- Sri Rama Navami: A 9-day celebration focusing on the life of Lord Rama, concluding with grand poojas.
- Deepotsava: During the month of Kartika, the entire temple complex, including the 80-foot statue, is illuminated with thousands of oil lamps.

5. Additional Information for Devotees

- Photography: While photography of the 80-foot statue from the courtyard is usually permitted, photography inside the inner sanctum of the sub-shrines is strictly prohibited.
- Dress Code: Traditional attire is preferred. Men are often requested to wear dhotis or formal trousers, and women are encouraged to wear sarees or ethnic suits.
- Best Time to Visit: Early morning (6:00 AM – 8:30 AM) or evening (5:30 PM – 8:00 PM) to avoid the coastal heat and to see the statue illuminated at sunset.
